

“Restore London cleaned and restored the facades of the building including the courtyard all to the complete satisfaction of our Client’s team. The quality of work was matched by the Professional and pro-active approach of the entire Restore team, we would certainly recommend them.”

Brian Hutchison - Board Director, Beck

Scope of Works

Restore London Ltd are proud to have been appointed lead façade contractor for the intricate façade cleaning & restoration works, completed in 2021 for Beck at the former Bow Magistrates' Court & Police Station.

The conversion & restoration works were carried out on this beautiful Grade II listed, 19th Century building which is to house the Nomad Hotel – the brand’s first property outside USA.

Working closely with Architects EPR, Restore London meticulously surveyed the facades to ensure the external fabric, including the courtyard, were appropriately cleaned, repaired, and restored.
